Safe, secure, hanging for special pictures

A unique range of superbly designed and engineered Wall Hooks, Adjuster and D-Ring hangers. All are made in Japan, using stainless steel with a fine finish. Designed to hang valuable fine art and heavy mirrors safely and securely.

The manufacturers advise that when two are used, which is normal, each should have a load capacity higher than the weight of the frame.

TAKIYA Adjustable Link

A unique design. It fits between the wall hook and the D-Ring. Engineered from stainless steel, with a fine finish. It lets the top of the frame come forward and allows frames where the canvas on stretchers is deeper than the frame moulding to hang correctly.

Knurled adjuster helps level the frame and the spring security clip prevents frames being easily lifted off. Fits most Takiya Wall Hooks and D-Rings.

TAKIYA Wall Hooks

The largest, 7177, is 120mm long and if correctly fixed to the wall with suitable screws will take a load up to 150kgs.

The smallest will take 50kg. D-Rings on a frame can be hung directly on the wall hooks. For extra flexibility and to adjust the level, use the Adjustable Link.

TAKIYA D-Rings for Frames

Substantially made D-Rings in stainless steel. The largest takes loads up to 150kg and even the smallest takes loads up to 10kg.

All work with the Adjustable Hook. Secure with appropriate size and length of screws.

Screws are provided with some Takiya fittings. However, the installer should always assess the frame and the wall materials and if appropriate, use different screws.

TAKIYA Security Collars

Each security collar matches a wall hook. When fitted they minimise the risk of the frame coming off the hook - by accident or deliberately.
